Torrance May Get County Health Center to Serve Harbor District; C. of C. Committee Named to Act

That Torrance may be selected as the location of a large Los Angeles county health center to serve the harbor district providing the city will furnish a site was the report made at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon yesterday noon at Earl's Cafe by Dr. J. S. Lancaster and Carl L. Hyde.

Dr. Lancaster called attention to the fact that such a center is scheduled to be constructed this year in the harbor district and that Torrance should make its bid. Mr. Hyde reported that he had already discussed the matter with County Health Officer Pomeroy and Supervisor McClellan and stated that the proposed area on Carson street near the Legion clubhouse had been suggested as a desirable site. C. A. Paxman moved that a committee be appointed to consult with county and city officials on the matter and the motion was unanimously carried.

Another committee to investigate the advisability of Torrance joining the Colorado River Aqueduct district with an eye to a future water supply was authorized. Several Southern California cities have already voted to join the district and share their part of the expense in running water from the projected dam to the Southland.

The meeting went on record as opposed to the granting of a license for an open used car market on a lot just north of the telephone office in Torrance.

Sam Rappaport asked City Engineer Frank Leonard when the city intends to start work on the crossings over the P. E. tracks on Cabrillo avenue. Mr. Leonard said that work would probably begin some time in February as soon as sufficient tax money has been received from the county treasurer. The council allocated $15,000 in this year's budget to do this work.

ADAMLESS EDEN

Six little maids of the mountain, enjoying Nature's rugged beauty, and man's most romantic melodies—supplied (through the medium of their Brunswick portable gramophone) prove here that man is not absolutely necessary in the feminine scheme of things. For a brief spell, the girls are enjoying freedom from "dictation" and (from all the wiles and whims of the sterner sex) scampering (creatures of the forest, timid feathered beings) looking down from above, the whistling winds coaxing (arias) from the leaves, and limbs of forest giants are the companions of these modern camping maids.
